
Contents

http://repository.nms.ac.uk/54

Deposited on: 7 April 2010
CONTENTS

MAP of Scotland .......................... 4
MAP of the Edinburgh District ....... 5
FOREWORD by Marian Allardyce
McKenzie Johnston MA MSC ........ 6
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS
by Dr Michael A. Taylor ............. 9
IMAGE CREDITS ......................... 11
‘Cromarty Man’ (c.1837)
by James Robertson .................. 12
PREFACE by Dr David Alston ......... 13

CHAPTERS

1 INTRODUCTION
   One of the living forces of Scotland ....................... 17
2 A wild insubordinate boy .......... 22
3 A life of manual labour .......... 27
4 The literary lion of Cromarty ... 34
5 A sort of Robinson Crusoe
   in geology ........................ 40 6 A long, and, in its earlier stages, anxious courtship ................ 45 7 A plain working man, in rather humble circumstances ............ 53 8 Among the remains of a different creation ................. 59 9 Strife, toil, and comparative obscurity .......................... 68
10 His business was to fight ......... 75
11 The truth I speak, impugn it
   whoso list ........................ 84 12 The landscape was one without figures ................... 93 13 The quiet enthusiasm of the true fossil-hunter .......... 99 14 He clothed the dry bones
   of science ....................... 105 15 Exceedingly plausible and consummately dangerous ....... 116
16 A gray maid, buckled
   shepherd-fashion ............... 125 17 These are but small achievements ..................... 131 18 A tenderly affectionate parent ........................... 139
19 Dearest Lydia, dear children, farewell .......................... 145
20 Life itself is a school ............ 153

SOURCES .............................. 160-64
A note on the Memoir by Hugh Miller Williamson ........... 165
Glossary ............................. 166
Places and websites to visit ...... 168
Further websites .................... 169 Suggestions for further reading ..................... 169
Miller’s major books ............... 170
INDEX ............................... 171